Who should attend?

This seminar will benefit anyone working in building code administration. Topics will include contractor licensing concerns, issues relative to homeowner-pulled permits, inspection dilemmas, and changing technologies.

The panel format will be set up to bring about unique and lively discussions in solving everyday problems facing our industry. The attendees and panel members will be working together to not only come up with the best solution, but a legal and code-related one as well.

- Building Officials
- Building Inspectors
- Permit Technicians
- BIT Students
- Housing Officials
- Building Department Clerical Staff
- Plans Examiners
